The pigs knew damn well that when they gave their dispersal orders they were forcing us into an ambush or be arrested scenario too

I kinda feel fuck the police at this point. They have no loyalty to the constitution and no love for us who support ROL. I know ive seen countless videos of cops taking a knee to support crowds of people who would love to see them dead but i can't think of an example of a cop defying orders to help enforce shutting down business.

We have to hold some sort of moral high ground though and can't scream fuck the police... yet... but we need too hold them accountable. We can't continue to not call them on their bullshit. We can't continue to follow their orders while in the streets!

I'm not ready to start screaming fuck the police yet but i don't trust them as a whole that they would ever do the right thing if it conflicts with their paycheck or retirement. They would violate our rights if they were told too. Im just saying you ain't gonna see me flying blue line flag at this point.

By calling out their bullshit. Every single officer on the ground! We don't shake their hands and thank them we demand they do their fucking job and support the oat they take to become an officer. I want to get the officer oats and have them printed on post cards to hand too them. If there higher up don't want to uphold their oath it's there job at that point and they are just acting as a government goons.

No.... bro people been trying to vote people out for years. It's impossible. Direct action is what it takes. This is why Antifa is starting to win... if they would leave the commie, socialist shit out most of us would probably be working with them.
